CHRISTMAS AND SENIORS

This Christmas, bring Joy to Someone Who Doesn't Expect It.

For most people, Christmas is the best holiday of the year. The Christmas season is a time of love and joy. It's a time to celebrate with family members and friends.

Throughout the day.....Love and Joy Fill the Atmosphere in the Home.

By bedtime, many are saying this was their best Christmas ever.

It's unfortunate, but at Christmas, some people are overlooked. One group is those people 65 and older who no longer have family or friends to celebrate the holidays with.

With each passing year, the number of friends they have declines. Some friends die. Others go to live with their children or even their grandchildren. Others move into Senior Centers, Assisted Living Centers or nursing homes. There are less and less friends to enjoy holidays with.

So their entire universe becomes much smaller than it was just a short time ago. The sad thing is, they are proud and won't tell others what is happening to them. They won't tell them how lonely they are and how anxious they are even to have a short conversation with others.

These People Are Not Excited About Christmas

You can make a difference. Take some time. Think about the people who live right there in your neighborhood. There may be an older lady or man who has no one to spend this Christmas with and is going to be all alone.

If you can, invite them over to your place to spend time with you and your family. You might find them declining your offer because they don't want to intrude or impose upon you. Be persistent and let them know you won't take no for an answer.

If you can't get them to come to your home, visit them at theirs. If your family will go with you, have them join you.

You may want to take a meal or some baked goodies with you for them to enjoy.

The Older Person You Reach out to...

...may never tell you how much they really enjoyed spending time with you. However, they will be grateful you thought of them. Most probably it will be the highlight of their day. Because of you, they will enjoy Christmas.

The Year 2021 was very challenging but with the continuous support of our Center, we had an outstanding productive year. I would like to take this opportunity to thank the many organizations that stepped up in this time of need for our Seniors. The Hubbardston Lion's Club, The Friends of the Hubbardston Senior Center, The Golden Age Club, Montachusett Opportunity Council, The Hubbardston Evangelical Church of Hubbardston, and The Country Hen. These organizations helped make our meal distribution, yard sale, Field Day and other events successful.

Most importantly are the volunteers that serve daily at the Senior Center. During Covid, when the Center was shut down, they never missed a meal delivery or an egg delivery day. They were also so helpful when the time came to slowly open the center with activities. They always show up with a smile and work hard to make things work. Many new events were held this year and were enjoyed by many of our Seniors which included a luncheon at Pickety Place; a tea; a well-attended Thanksgiving dinner; our first Winter Boutique; and many more. None of these events would have been successful without the dedication of our volunteers. Thank you to all.
